Branch Library Opens Thursday in South Section

First branch of Welwood Murray Memorial Library will open tomorrow, according to Miss Dorothy Bear, librarian.

Located at 1146 South Palm Canyon Drive, just north of Zanville's, it is designed to better serve the residents of the south part of the Village. Mrs. Donald Floan will be in charge.

Hours the branch library will be open are 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday.

AT THE START there will be a selection of approximately 1,500 books, with this to be increased to 2,500 as soon as possible.

Temporary shelving has been used to facilitate the opening of the library, until the permanent shelves arrive, Miss Bear said.

The Palm Springs Historical Society also will have a room there for exhibits, and for its valuable collection of early Palm Springs.

THE SITE WAS selected by the library board, together with the Historical Society board, after a search of several months.

The building, owned by Phil Zanville, is leased to the two groups, under approval of city council. Funds for its establishment and maintenance is provided in this year's city budget.

Miss Bear paid tribute to the various city departments for their cooperation, and to Zanville for making the building available to the library and Historical Society.

Severe Temblor in West Pacific

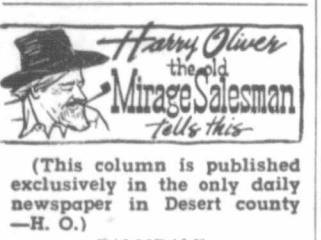

PASADENA — Seismologists at California Institute of Technology today reported an earthquake in the Western Pacific about 5600 miles from Pasadena.

The first wave was timed at 7:15.14 PST and the second at 7:25.47. Dr. Charles Richter, professor of seismology at the institute, said the magnitude was 6.8, which could cause considerable danger if in a populated area.

Keaton Reported Improved Today

HOLLYWOOD — Silent screen comedian Buster Keaton was reported "slightly improved" today but still in critical condition at Sattelle Veterans Hospital from an intestinal ailment.

Keaton, 60, who ranked with Charlie Chaplin, Fatty Arbuckle and other top stars of the pre-talkie film days, has regained consciousness. He was rushed to the hospital in a coma last Saturday night.

PALMDALE.

A mule knows three times as much as a horse, and a burro is smarter than a mule.

"Mother love." For two weeks a hawk raided a chicken coop near Palmdale, each time carrying off a baby chick. Recently a terrific squawking was heard coming from the coop. Grabbing a gun the rancher went to see what the trouble was, he found the hawk nearly dead from the vicious attacks of the hen.

"Roadrunners kill rattlesnakes."

Hospital Heads Concerned Over Future of Blood Bank

Hospital officials, deeply concerned over the future of the blood bank service here, announced today that the next visit of the Riverside-San Bernardino two-county Blood Bank to Desert Hospital would be from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Monday.

The concern was caused by the poor response last month when only six persons donated blood. Regular quota is 25.

ROBERT HENWOOD, hospital administrator, said that "it is very possible that the lack of interest will cause Blood Bank officials to withdraw this service from the Palm Springs community."

"Once this is done," he continued, "any person needing blood will have to secure it from direct transfusion from another person. This may take time which is not available in the case of emergencies."

A LARGE AMOUNT of blood was used last month due to emergencies, Henwood said, and friends of persons who required numerous transfusions are asked to aid them by replacing it now.

The hospital administrator urged everyone who is physically able to donate a pint of blood at the Monday visit of the Blood Bank. Reservations may be made by calling the hospital, 2251, and in that way avoid waiting.

Boastful Bandit Steals $100,000 in Bank Hold-Up

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. — A lone bandit, who bragged he had the keys to 12 banks, today robbed the First National Bank of Lake Geneva of an estimated $100,000.

The man, who wore a flesh-colored halloween mask, was waiting inside the bank when the employees arrived for work. He herded all but one, Vice-President George Allen, into a coin vault.

Then he forced Allen at gunpoint to put currency into a box. The robber fled in a cashier's car after tying up the vice-president.

Allen said the man took the bank's list of serial numbers for the currency which the FBI requires banks to keep. He said the gunman volunteered the information that he had the keys to 12 banks.

President Says U.S. Economy is in Good Shape

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — President Eisenhower examined the national economy today and found it in good shape.

The President spent almost two hours going over the latest economic indicators and prospects with his top economic advisers.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said afterwards that there would be no public report on the discussions, since they were preparatory to a formal report to Congress due in January.

But to a reporter's inquiry whether the talks showed the economy in good shape, Hagerty replied:

"Yes, sure."

5 Directors Reelected to C of C Board

Dewey Metzdorf Is New Member Named by Voters

Five incumbents and one new director were named by Chamber of Commerce members to complete the 1956 board of directors, according to tabulation of votes.

Reelected were: Harold West, who is serving as president; Francis Crocker, Earl Hough, Warren Slaughter and George Olman. New member of the board is Dewey Metzdorf, general manager of Oasis Hotel.

A LARGE NUMBER of votes were submitted by Chamber members, before the polls closed at 2 p.m., Tuesday.

Other members of the board are: Bud Bachtold, Tom Kieley, Frank Bogert, Culver Nichols, Sherman Hull and Stewart Williams, elected; Herb Esbitt, Junior Chamber of Commerce; Adele Colgan, Hotel and Apartment Association; Adrian Rosen, Retail Merchants Association; William Tackett, Home Owners League, and Terry Ray, Real Estate Board, appointed.

TWELVE CANDIDATES were presented to the members by a nominating committee composed of Dr. B. H. Poliak, Stanley Rosin, Eddie Hubbard, Fred Ingram and Harold Hicks.

Judges who were in charge of tabulating the vote were: Eddie Davidson, John Williams, Ray Lusby, Al Laurye and Stan Jaloff.

New directors, and officers to be elected by the board, will be installed at the annual Chamber banquet January 11.

Charge Unions Plan Blacklist of Congressmen

NEW YORK — Henry G. Riter, III, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, today charged the new AFL-CIO planned to send a "union blacklist" of congressmen to its 15 million union members.

He loosed a blast at the recent merger of the two big labor organizations in an address kicking off the 60th Congress of American Industry.

Riter told 3000 top industrialists from all over the nation that the union merger was a threat to the basic American concept of "individual freedom and individual responsibility."

JAMESON IS charged with paying for sport clothes at Bullocks, and a suite at a local hotel with checks addressed to a bank where he had no money deposited.

Since Jameson's arrest November 30, Greene has talked with the suspect's estranged wife in Philadelphia by phone. She said he was wanted on similar charges in Philadelphia, Miami and Los Angeles.

Mrs. Jameson told Greene that her husband's probation officer (he served 90 days in Los Angeles county jail for grand theft, checks, recently) had called her trying to locate him in regard to more bad paper in Los Angeles.

GREEN THEN received telephone bulletins from the Long Beach Police Department, Los Angeles County Sheriff's Office, and Orange County Sheriff's office — more checks.

In talking with Mrs. Jameson, Greene found that the suspect operated on a tight schedule. He appeared.

Christmas Party, Tea for Cahulla Chapter

The Cahulla Chapter, D.A.R., will hold its Christmas meeting and desert tea at the home of Mrs. Saul Ruskin, regent, 180 Prescott Drive, at 1 p.m. Thursday. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Howard Jay, Mrs. Leon M. Wilbor and Mrs. H. G. Bosler.

Beside the speaker, Mrs. Lester Powell, Mrs. Violet Watson will sing Christmas carols and American music. Gifts will also be exchanged among the members and guests. Mrs. Powell will give a report upon the recent sessions of the Continental Congress in Washington.

28 Feared Dead in Blast in Apartment

New Structure Demolished by Night Explosion

FRANKFURT, Germany — A newly built apartment house collapsed in a nightmarish pre-dawn explosion early today. Police feared the blast killed 25 to 28 persons — most of them refugees from Communism.

Nineteen bodies had been brought out of the wreckage eight hours after the blast and officials said there was little hope for those still trapped in the debris. Seven persons were hospitalized with injuries.

The thunderclap explosion that sent the building tumbling down in splintered ruins came while the occupants were asleep.

A TOTAL of 32 persons lived in the house, most of them refugees who had only recently moved in from a settlement in nearby Idstein. Three overnight visitors also were reported in the building.

The explosion came at 5:35 a.m. It lifted the building in the air, caused the walls to collapse and sent the roof and upper floors cascading to the bottom.

There was no fire. The collapse of the roof, walls and upper floors snuffed out whatever flames may have resulted from the explosion.

The house, completed three months ago, was inspected and approved by local housing authorities only yesterday.

Some rescue workers said they suspected a buried bomb left over from World War II might finally have gone off to cause the disaster.

The building stood in an area near the railway freight station, a prime target for Allied bombers during the war.

More than 300 German police and emergency workers were joined by 50 U. S. Army Engineers in rescue efforts.

The Americans on the scene were commanded by Capt. William F. Halley, of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Capt. Samuel Green, Loretto, Ky.

Jet Crash Sets Homes Ablaze

RICHMOND, Va. — A Navy Banshee jet collided with another jet fighter in the air today and crashed into an exclusive residential section, demolishing one residence and setting another ablaze.

At first it was believed the Banshee exploded in the air. But several hours after the crash the Navy announced that it went down after the wing of another jet fighter hit its tail. The second plane suffered only slight damage and Bristol was able to land it safely at Oceana, Va., 100 miles away.

Firemen and police who rushed to the scene were amazed to discover that there were no deaths and that the only injuries were a few minor burns to some of the six persons in the dwelling that was leveled by the impact.

The pilot managed to eject himself from his plane and parachuted to safety, landing several miles from the scene of destruction.

First Monument to Men Who Died in Sneak Attack Dedicated at Pearl Harbor

By GEORGE REMINGTON United Press Staff Correspondent HONOLULU — The first monument to all the Navy men who died during the Pearl Harbor attack was dedicated here today on the 14th anniversary of the Dec. 7th sneak assault.

This ceremony and a 15-minute memorial observation conducted by Navy personnel aboard the sunken battleship, Arizona, in the placid waters of Pearl Harbor were the only events to mark the day in 1941 which gave the United States its battle cry of "Remember Pearl Harbor" in World War II.

The Navy Club unveiled the memorial—a simple bronze plaque mounted on a two-ton lava rock on Ford Island within a stone's throw of "Battleship Row" where Japanese planes concentrated their heaviest attack and killed more than 2000 Navy men.

THE PLAQUE weighs about 200 pounds and depicts a woman symbolizing peace holding a ship and a palmleaf above this inscription: "In reverent recognition of divine guidance and to eternal memory of those who gave last full measure of devotion to their country this monument is dedicated humbly to their sacrifice in defense of our freedoms."

The Navy Club bought the plaque with voluntary contributions from its members throughout the United States and territories. Club National Commandant Charles R. Topp, Davenport, Iowa, headed a delegation of about a dozen members here for the dedication.

The dedication ceremony was held one hour after a brief Navy memorial service on the superstructure of the Arizona where 1102 crewmen have been entombed since the attack. For the past several years, the Arizona memorial service traditionally has been the only Pearl Harbor anniversary observance in Honolulu.

THE ARIZONA'S rusting superstructure is one of the few scars remaining of the attack and the bitterness of 14 years ago. The attack is all but forgotten here. American-built destroyers of the new Japanese Self Defense Force frequently call at Pearl Harbor and their crewmen swim ashore on liberty without causing any more attention than American sailors.

The rising sun flag flutters from the Japanese consulate and from the bows of Japanese merchant ships, loading and unloading cargo here. Just a few days ago Vice Admiral Kuro Hagasawa, chief of Japan's Maritime Self Defense Force, inspected the honor guard at Pearl Harbor. He was escorted by U. S. Pacific Fleet Commander Admiral Felix B. Stump.

City's Promotion Film Travels Throughout U.S.

During the past six months the four 16mm color and sound prints of the Palm Springs promotional film have traveled to all points of the country's compass, showing on an average of twice weekly in cities from Florida to New York, Alaska to Texas and stopping en route in the midwestern cities of Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City.

The first print of the film was presented to Palm Springs last spring by the local Rotary Club and later three prints were acquired by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Rotary clubs throughout the United States were sent letters by the local Chamber to the effect that prints were available for showing before their groups. The response was overwhelming and the four prints have traveled a distance equivalent to twice around the world.

A letter from Ralph E. Peacock of La Junta, Colorado, before whose Rotary group a print recently was shown, advised they considered it a splendid film and "much different from the usual run of pictures."

Peacock continued that Russell Rink, former Palm Springs city manager, made a short talk on the growth of the desert areas and commented on the record number of swimming pools in Palm Springs.

Brown to Appear in Colorado River Case

SAN FRANCISCO — Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown and his assistant, Northcutt Ely, will fly to Washington to argue California's position in its dispute with Arizona over Colorado River water.

Arizona Gov. Ernest W. McFarland, a former Superior Court judge, will argue his state's position before the U. S. Supreme Court.

At issue is California's request to have the upper basin states of Utah, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming made parties to the suit.

Georgia Univ. Scene of Fifth Campus Riot

1500 Male Students Defy Police, Hang Dean in Effigy

ATHENS, Ga. — Police and troopers used tear gas to break up a yelling throng of more than 1500 University of Georgia male students during a campus demonstration today.

State highway patrolmen arrested two students and discharged tear gas among the swirling horde of demonstrators who blocked traffic, threw rocks at patrol cars and hung effigies of a university dean.

This was a fifth campus demonstration to be staged in the state since Gov. Marvin Griffin proposed that Georgia Tech be forbidden to play in the Sugar Bowl game Jan. 2 because of rival Pittsburgh's Negro football.

THE TARGET this time was not Griffin, as in Tech's rowdy march on the state capitol and the governor's mansion, but Dean of Men William Tate, because he is disciplining students for their part in a "sympathy" rally by Georgia students two nights ago.

The State Board of Regents, governing both institutions, voted after Tech's riotous protest to permit the Sugar Bowl game. The board is still debating precise terms for enforcing the state's segregation traditions in future athletic contests.

THE REGENTS ordered strict segregation in contests played within the state with some tolerance of racial mingling according to the "ground rules" of the localities involved in out-of-state games.

The regents' opinions appear to favor letting the athletic officials of Georgia and Georgia Tech schedule future games without direct interference so long as they follow that general policy.

Regent Charles Bloch said late Tuesday he wanted to reconsider a proposal he made for setting up a "screening" of all prospective bowl games by the regents to safeguard the board's policy toward mixed athletics.

Stolen Stole is Mailed to Owner

Edna Burns called police last night to tell them her stolen stole had been returned through the mail.

Miss Burns, a musician, who lives at 139 Tamarisk Road, first reported the ranch mink stole missing after she finished Sunday dinner at a local restaurant. She told Sgt. John Herrera that she had hung the stole in a rack near the dining room, and eaten dinner. It was missing when she prepared to leave.

Yesterday, according to Miss Burns, the stole was returned in a package postmarked India.

She said the name Edna, stitched into the lining, and the key to her apartment which had been in a pocket, were missing. She had valued the stole at $800.

Growth of Palm Springs Reflected in Police Report

Community growth, both in population and economy-wise, is reflected in the November statistical study of the Police department crime load which is up in nearly every category over 1954. Chief August G. Kettmann said today in his monthly report submitted to City Manager R. W. Peterson and city council.

Burglaries jumped 50 per cent from eight to 12, check complaints jumped from 6 to six, traffic citations tripled from 105 to 303, and accidents were doubled, 14 to 28.

ACCELERATED SCREENING of work applicants and undesirable persons resulted in an increase in vagrancy arrests from three to nine, Kettmann said. There were 24 misdemeanor gambling arrests made.

Larceny over $50 more than doubled from eight to 18, and drunk arrests were up from 29 to 40.

Accident-wise, November was the worst period in Palm Springs' history with four fatalities being recorded in two accidents, both due to high speed and occurring at the north and south city limits, the police chief said.

COUNCIL RECENTLY approved the hiring of two additional patrolmen, and candidates are being sought for an examination to be held in January. A dearth of desirable applicants has been noted though, Kettmann added.

A weekly in-service training program is in effect employing both department and outside instructors to increase the individual officers' knowledge of law enforcement.

Jr. High Drama Club Plans Play

Nellie Coffman Junior High Drama Club will present a play, "The General and the Christmas Tree," at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, in the Palm Springs High School cafeteria.

All 40 members of the Drama Club will take part in the play. The public is invited to attend.

Police Turn Down Unique Yule Gift
MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A Madison man came up with an idea for a Christmas gift for a friend who apparently has everything, but police turned him down.

The man called police headquarters and asked if he could pay a $1 parking ticket in advance for his friend.

Other offenses occurring during November, not recorded above, were: One robbery; 19 larcenies under $50; one kidnapping; two auto thefts; eight arrests for other agencies; six other arrests. There were five juveniles picked up on suspicion, and 12 cases of malicious mischief reported.

IN OCTOBER, burglaries declined from 15 in 1954 to 2. Larceny under $50 increased from 12 to 29, more than double. Drunk arrests jumped from 19 to 26, while drunk driving arrests declined from eight to two.

Kettmann said that the presence of the military base at Twentynine Palms was felt directly in Palm Springs in three crime categories—theft of autos, theft of accessories from parked vehicles, and attempted violations of the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Act.

Of three auto thefts, two cars were recovered in Twentynine Palms, and recent arrests for thefts from cars have led officers to the same point of origin, the police chief explained.

LIQUOR LICENSEES complain of constant attempts by military personnel to secure alcoholic beverages through the presentation of counterfeit identification cards.

"Military authorities at Twentynine Palms have been advised of our increasing problems with their personnel during after-duty hours, and state they are doing everything they can to combat it," Kettmann said.

Through October, of 1955, department personnel worked a total of 1390 unpaid overtime hours.

Walter P. Reuther, former president of the CIO, was slated to head the new department which will consist of some 51 separate unions with six million members.

James B. Carey, former secretary-treasurer of the CIO, was expected to be named Reuther's assistant.

The controversy raged over regulations for admission into the IUD, by far the biggest division within the 16 million member AFL-CIO organization.

The men who brought the AFL and the CIO together into one organization had ruled that the new department would admit only those unions with members organized on an industry-wide basis.

Many specific problems arose in unions which have members organized both by crafts and on an industry-wide basis.

Most of the opposition came from Dave Beck, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. As head of the 1,400,000-man union, he has held extensive power in the American labor movement.

An AFL-CIO Executive Council ruling Monday night was expected to reduce his power considerably. It permits only about half of Beck's union members—those organized on an industry-wide basis—to join the IUD. The remainder would be routed into other sections of the new labor organization.

Takes Many Words to Offer Alaskan Maps

150 Teen Aged to Hold Skating Party Thursday

One hundred and fifty teen-agers from organized groups in Palm Springs, Cathedral City and Desert Hot Springs are expected to attend a skating party Thursday night at the Palm Springs Recreation Center.

Groups participating will be the Palm Springs Youth Center, Cathedral City Youth Center, and the Desert Hot Springs Baptist church.

Games will be played, and prizes donated by merchants in the various communities awarded.

Harold Stitt, Recreation Center manager, said that special bus service will be provided on Palm Canyon Drive to and from the party.

Buses will leave for the rink at 6:30, 7:30 and 8:30, and will provide transportation back at 9 and 10.

A special party rate will be placed into effect Thursday night, he added.

Four Autos Damaged but No One Hurt

Two traffic collisions, both involving cars making turns being struck from the rear by other cars traveling in their same directions, were reported by police yesterday.

Lorraine Helen Crist, 540 Mountain View Road, was making a left turn into the Safeway parking lot from Indian Avenue when she was struck by a car driven by Unit Milford Booth, an employee at a service station in the Village.

Booth, who was traveling north on Indian, as was Mrs. Crist, also was attempting a turn into the parking lot. He was cited for following too close to another vehicle.

In a similar collision, William Tracy Grindle turned right onto Morongo Road, from Highway 111, near Araby Point, and struck the rear of a car driven by Essie Lee Moles, 25-635 North Morongo Road. Mrs. Moles had just turned from Highway 111.

There were no injuries reported as a result of either accident. Damage to the cars was about the same, crumpled rear fenders on the cars that were hit, and crumpled front fender of the others.

Army Reserve Program Lags

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only 1224 youths have started training in the first three months of the new military reserve program, the Army disclosed today. That is far short of the number needed to achieve the huge reserve buildup the Army hoped for.

Asst. Defense Secretary Carter L. Burgess conceded to a reporter that he is "not happy at all" with the results thus far of the new reserve law. But he emphasized the department has "not given up yet" on the program.

Pat O'Brien Wins $206,000 Tax Case

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Pat O'Brien has won a $206,000 tax fight with the federal government, according to his attorney, Frank W. Mahoney.

Mahoney said a tax court ruled O'Brien was correct when he reported his shares of assets in Terneed Production Inc., as a capital gain instead of personal income. The company was dissolved in 1944.

Marine Reserve Flyer, Navy Pilot Win Top Honors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon today presented the Harmon International Trophy, among the top awards in aviation, to a Marine reservist and a Navy pilot for outstanding accomplishments in flight during the past year.

The "Aviator" Trophy was presented to Marine Lt. Col. James F. Skeets Coleman, an engineering test pilot for Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. Coleman received the award for piloting the vertical rising and landing "Pogo Stick" airplane, Convair's Navy XFV1, in the world's first vertical take-off and landing flight in November, 1954.

The "Aeronaut" or lighter-than-air trophy went to Navy Capt. Marion H. Eppes, an airship pilot. Eppes commanded the Navy airship ZPG2 in a record eighty-day 3000 mile simulated anti-submarine patrol in May, 1954.

Plan Arbitration in Gravel Strike

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rock firm employers today considered arbitration as a means of settling a 65-day strike by AFL teamsters if the union makes a specific proposal.

The 29 Southern California rock products firms said, however, the union must first make a "specific proposal to us." Last week the union accepted an offer by Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to appoint an arbitrator but the proposal was turned down as "premature" by employers.

The union has offered to send its 1,600 drivers back to work if the employers accept arbitration.

Meanwhile, a federal conciliator, Earl J. Ruddy, resumed separate negotiations yesterday with the union and employers. Ruddy hoped that joint negotiations would be possible later this week.

15 Circus Theme Ideas Submitted

Eight Villagers have submitted approximately 15 themes for the 1956 Desert Circus, with more wanted.

These suggestions have been sent to The Desert Sun, Post Office Box 190, Palm Springs, Attention: Theme Department.

Desert Circus officials ask that all Villagers aid in selection of an appropriate theme for the traditional celebration. Ideas should signify the color and glamor of Palm Springs, and should carry a thought around which Villagers and visitors can rally with floats and costumes.

Neighbors Build House for Stricken Man

AMESBURY, Mass. (AP)—George Winters, 32, and his family will eat their Christmas dinner in a new, completely furnished home, thanks to some kindly townfolk.

Five years ago, Winters became crippled by polio. Led by his friend, Donat Pouliot, then a policeman, townsfolk quickly rallied to Winters' aid.

A benefit was held to raise funds. Carpenters, plumbers and bricklayers donated their services to build a house on a lot donated by another citizen.

And now Winters, his wife and their two children are assured of a home of their own.

Car Tire Gauge, Glasses Taken

A tire gauge, a pair of glasses and a three-bladed screwdriver, valued at $43.75, were reported stolen from the glove compartment of a car while it was parked in front of Rose Villa, on Belardo Road.

A. E. Fickling, who is visiting from Long Beach, said he discovered the articles missing from his car yesterday afternoon. Fickling told police the last time he had seen the articles in the glove compartment was November 9. He will return to Long Beach today.

Top Labor Union Officials Cite 'Unofficial Magazines'

Top ranking officials of the labor unions representing the AFL in Riverside county today expressed appreciation to the various business organizations, Chambers of Commerce, and newspapers who have cooperated during the past three months in eliminating "so-called" labor publications from the area.

The national organization of the AFL has been conducting a campaign for over a year to stamp out the practice of business people being solicited in the name of labor for unofficial labor publications. The AFL points out that there are legitimate trade magazines put out by the various national organizations, that contain no advertising.

THE GREATEST difficulty on the local level and throughout California has been the great number of unofficial labor publications, officials said. Most business people have been under the impression that when they are solicited, that the revenue goes to the benefit of one of the local labor organizations.

The top three parent AFL labor organizations; the Riverside Central Labor Council, the Building and Construction Trades Council, and the Labor Temple Association do not sponsor or endorse any labor publications for Riverside county.

Business people are urged to call any of the above name organizations if they are asked to place advertising in any labor publication. The telephone numbers are Overland 4-1484, Overland 4-1040 and Overland 4-5335, Riverside.

Plan Arbitration in Gravel Strike

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rock firm employers today considered arbitration as a means of settling a 65-day strike by AFL teamsters if the union makes a specific proposal.

The 29 Southern California rock products firms said, however, the union must first make a "specific proposal to us." Last week the union accepted an offer by Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to appoint an arbitrator but the proposal was turned down as "premature" by employers.

Four Autos Damaged but No One Hurt

Two traffic collisions, both involving cars making turns being struck from the rear by other cars traveling in their same directions, were reported by police yesterday.

Lorraine Helen Crist, 540 Mountain View Road, was making a left turn into the Safeway parking lot from Indian Avenue when she was struck by a car driven by Unit Milford Booth, an employee at a service station in the Village.

Booth, who was traveling north on Indian, as was Mrs. Crist, also was attempting a turn into the parking lot. He was cited for following too close to another vehicle.

In a similar collision, William Tracy Grindle turned right onto Morongo Road, from Highway 111, near Araby Point, and struck the rear of a car driven by Essie Lee Moles, 25-635 North Morongo Road. Mrs. Moles had just turned from Highway 111.

There were no injuries reported as a result of either accident. Damage to the cars was about the same, crumpled rear fenders on the cars that were hit, and crumpled front fender of the others.

15 Circus Theme Ideas Submitted

Eight Villagers have submitted approximately 15 themes for the 1956 Desert Circus, with more wanted.

These suggestions have been sent to The Desert Sun, Post Office Box 190, Palm Springs, Attention: Theme Department.

Desert Circus officials ask that all Villagers aid in selection of an appropriate theme for the traditional celebration. Ideas should signify the color and glamor of Palm Springs, and should carry a thought around which Villagers and visitors can rally with floats and costumes.

Neighbors Build House for Stricken Man

AMESBURY, Mass. (AP)—George Winters, 32, and his family will eat their Christmas dinner in a new, completely furnished home, thanks to some kindly townfolk.

Five years ago, Winters became crippled by polio. Led by his friend, Donat Pouliot, then a policeman, townsfolk quickly rallied to Winters' aid.

A benefit was held to raise funds. Carpenters, plumbers and bricklayers donated their services to build a house on a lot donated by another citizen.

And now Winters, his wife and their two children are assured of a home of their own.

Car Tire Gauge, Glasses Taken

A tire gauge, a pair of glasses and a three-bladed screwdriver, valued at $43.75, were reported stolen from the glove compartment of a car while it was parked in front of Rose Villa, on Belardo Road.

A. E. Fickling, who is visiting from Long Beach, said he discovered the articles missing from his car yesterday afternoon. Fickling told police the last time he had seen the articles in the glove compartment was November 9. He will return to Long Beach today.

Got the Bird

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Bailey Wilson and his wife heard "Just a minute" when they rang a neighbor's bell, but no one opened the door. Three rings and three such answers later, the Wilsons gave up and left. They found out that the neighbor had a new parakeet that knew what to say but not how to open the door.

Bricker Says Eisenhower Still Undecided on 1956

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) said today he thinks President Eisenhower is still undecided on whether to seek a second term in the White House.

He told reporters that, although Mr. Eisenhower is not duty-bound to announce a decision as soon as it has been made, he considers the President too straightforward to hold back.

Newsweek magazine said today a poll it made of Republican state and territorial chairmen showed an "overwhelming majority" believe Mr. Eisenhower will seek a second term.

THE POLL ALSO SHOWED that a "substantial majority" of the GOP chairmen want Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the Republican presidential candidate if Mr. Eisenhower does not run, the magazine said.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) predicted in New York last night that Congress, under Democratic leadership, will achieve "liberal progress" in at least 10 major areas of legislation next year.

One such move forward, Humphrey said in a speech before the New York Young Democratic Club would be a farm program to restore 90 percent price supports and get rid of troublesome surpluses. Such a move would overturn the administration's system of flexible price supports.

JAMES F. BYRNES, fired as Secretary of State by former President Truman, indicated he might consider going to the 1956 convention to accept a challenge by former Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell.

The 76-year-old Byrnes said last winter he definitely would not serve as a delegate to the convention. However, Mitchell later said that Byrnes and other Democrats who bolted the party in 1952 would be denied seats if they tried to attend as delegates.

Movie-Going Public Votes Jennifer Jones, Dean, Best

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—The movie-going public gave its own version of the Oscar last night to Jennifer Jones and the late James Dean in the nation's first audience award poll for the best performances of 1955.

The pair were named by 14 million film ticket buyers in the first poll conducted in theaters around the country by a Motion Picture Theater Owners' Organization Council.

The dark-haired Miss Jones has an Oscar at home for her first picture "Song of Bernadette," but she excitedly announced that her audience award "Audie" statuette "means more than the Academy Award because the people who see the movies do the voting, and not the people who make the movies."

She was handed her gold trophy, a figure of a woman holding a star, by William Holden at a banquet attended by 800 stars, exhibitors and press in the Beverly Hilton Hotel.

The award voted Dean was regarded the first of several posthumous honors expected for the 24-year-old sensitive actor who was killed in a crash of his sports car shortly after he rose to stardom in "East of Eden."

As his name was announced, master-of-ceremonies George Murphy asked the audience to stand in silence for six seconds. Natalie Wood, Dean's co-star in "Rebel Without a Cause," accepted the statuette for the deceased actor.

Freedom Appeal Denied by Judge

Judge John Gabbert in Riverside Superior court Tuesday disallowed the petition filed by Maurice Prince, 31, for a writ of habeas corpus to secure his release from county jail.

Reason given was a legal technicality involved in the preparation of the petition.

Prince, who was sentenced from here on a charge of vagrancy to a total of 90 days, 65 days suspended, claims that he was not arraigned in justice court.

When arrested, he was described by Police Chief August G. Kettmann as a professional gambler and known bookmaker. The police chief said that Prince admitted setting up football pools in the Village on a commercial basis.

FCDA Expects All Homes to Have Alarm Systems

Engineers working with the Federal Civil Defense Administration now are convinced that within the next few years, 99 percent of American homes can be equipped with a warning signal to alert families of enemy attack or a civil defense emergency.

Research funds for a home-warning system were made available for the first time under the current FCDA budget, although studies in this field have been under way almost from the time civil defense was first organized. FCDA's Warning and Communications office has long recognized that the present system of siren warnings is not completely adequate in that it cannot reach all areas and that the sirens are not always audible to many people who are indoors.

SINCE THE GOAL is to alert 100 percent of the population in times of possible danger, it is accepted that an indoor signal must be developed which will supplement the outdoor sirens, or warnings broadcast by radio.

FCDA does not envision the indoor signal system as supplanting other warning methods. Instead it is thinking along the lines of a signal to call attention to the possibility of impending danger and to make sure that everyone gets the information which is being transmitted by radio or other means. Obviously such a system would have a value beyond its use in event of enemy attack. It could be used to alert the public in time of immediate danger and send those at home to their radios where they would hear bulletins and receive instructions.

TENTATIVE PLANS are under way in one western community for a test of one type of home signal. Sponsors of this particular test originally conceived it for use as a warning against tornado danger but are now revising their plans to incorporate the device into the civil defense program.

Preliminary studies on the feasibility of indoor warning devices were made earlier this year by the Engineering Research Institute of the University of Michigan, under a contract with the Advisory Committee on Civil Defense of the National Academy of Sciences and the National Research Council.

These studies included various types of warning devices, using electric power lines, telephones and radio. More than 100 such devices have been suggested within the last three years — even one that would use water supply lines and by varying the pressure create a pulse which would activate an alarm.

FOR THE MOST PART, these suggestions fall into two categories. Either they work well but are too costly, or they could be produced cheaply enough for mass acceptance, but have not proved entirely workable.

The Michigan study concluded that a system could be developed that would warn more than 99 percent of the people in any target area, at a moderate cost. It suggested that the plan of using electric power lines was the best of the systems suggested and that such a system was technically possible. The study pointed out that factors other than technical or economic will enter into the feasibility and effectiveness of any warning system and suggested that a large scale test should be made.

The home signal device would be priced under $10, and would use a negligible amount of electrical power. One of these devices has been successfully tested on a small scale.

NOW THAT FUNDS have been made available to FCDA for research on this project, it has been given top priority rating. It is hoped that research and preparations can be completed during the present fiscal year and that during the next fiscal year full scale tests can be completed in a number of large cities. If these tests prove satisfactory, home warning systems can then be made available throughout the nation.

By reaching families in suburban and rural areas — now beyond the range of sirens — the home warning devices would make the Civil Defense warning system almost 100 percent effective.

Victory in Indonesia — The recent triumph of Democracy in the parliamentary elections in Indonesia should not be over looked. Indonesia is of vast importance as the home of 80,000,000 people. It is the third richest nation in the world in raw materials, being surpassed only by the United States and the Soviet Union.

The Democratic victory is all the more important because it resulted from Indonesia's first general election. The Communist Party, now the largest Red organization outside Communist China, polled 6,000,000 votes, which is fewer than those of any of the other three parties. The Nationalist Party, which until last August governed by an alliance with the Communists, netted 8,061,934 votes; the Moslem Party received 7,751,125 and the Nahadatul Ulama, an orthodox Islamic party, received 6,448,465.

This voting for Parliament will be followed by another election in December when a constituent assembly will be selected. But already Indonesia, a pivotal nation in Southeast Asia, has shown its democratic tendency.

Tough on Typists — News that the government is going to test typewriters with a rearranged keyboard has inspired some grave head-shaking. Stenographers trained to whack out 100 words per minute on the old keyboard become twitchy at thought of how the boss's letters will look while they're learning the new arrangement. Even practitioners of the hunt and peck system worry a bit about it.

We're all for progress. We're also for the kind of government economy that might result of typists could — as is claimed — do about 30 per cent more work with the new keyboard. But we feel some sympathy for those, including ourselves, who have been pounding the keys for so long that re-educating their fingers will be a major chore.

Consider the newspaperman sweating out a piece of prose. He intends to write, "Police said driver missed a curve." But what he does write — because under pressure of imminent deadline, he forgets that his machine now has a new keyboard — is "Ircnj. Oace yd. epck.p mcooe a jgpk."

Reserve Apathy—The new ready reserves program for the Army has not caught fire. Especially it has failed to spark enthusiasm among the young men it was designed to attract. This is a disappointment to the Pentagon. It should be a matter of concern to the nation.

As military chiefs have repeatedly warned, the country's stand-by reserve is the frailest link in the whole defense setup. Of all the major powers on this danger pocked globe, the United States has the weakest reserve program. This reduces America almost to the status of a one-punch defense.

This year the President proposed and the Defense Department backed a measure to put sinew into our tissue paper reserves. The original measure was watered down by Congress but finally passed and signed by Mr. Eisenhower last summer. It is now in effect, but so far has been almost ineffective. The new act was anticipated to boost military reserves from the present puny strength of 700,000 to 2,900,000. But since present servicemen are exempted from compulsory reserve duty, they cannot begin to augment the reserves for two years.

Another feature of the law was expected to give the program an immediate spurt. That is the provision for enlistment of youths between 17 and 18½ years of age who would get a six-month tour of active duty, after which they would be in the active reserves seven and a half years.

This law seemed to offer young men a prime opportunity to discharge their service obligation without interrupting college work or other civilian pursuits for more than a few months. Possibly eligible youth does not understand the deal; perhaps their parents don't. It may be our traditional inertia in the face of military duty. At all events, enlistments for this service have been amazingly skimpy.

Assistant Secretary of Defense, Carter L. Burgess, in charge of military manpower, declared in St. Louis this week only 4,000 youths throughout the nation have volunteered for the six-month service and subsequent hitch in the ready reserve. This is but 4 per cent of the first year's quota of 100,000. Next year the quota was set for 250,000.

If young men fail to enter this program, they face two years drafted service and three more in the active reserve. Even after that it is quite likely they would be recalled in case of major war. The volunteers in the six-month training program would have longer reserve duty, but escape most of the two-year hole service makes in normal life. They would be able to plan their futures.

Most likely the trouble is lack of public understanding. The military is seeking help of business and industry to promote its reserves program, stress the need — and afford brief training time for reservists. But the Pentagon itself will have to undertake a selling job — more accurately an educational campaign — to tell its story.

America demands competent reserves, if it is to hold the size of its regular forces in line with sound economy. It requires reserve power in any event, if it is not to be an inviting pushover for sudden aggression.

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

YOU RECALL how irked I used to get in July or August when Vilagers by the seashore or in the mountains, penned me postcards declaring they had slept under two blankets the night before? Well, I had a switch on that this week. From the Antipodes, otherwise known as "down under" and also, on the Rand-McNalleys, as Australia, comes a communication: "No blankets last night. Wish you were here."

ANOTHER COMMUNICATION also mentioned lack of blankets. It was from Zaddie Bunker, the Village's flying grand-mother. Her card was postmarked "Piqua, Ohio." It set forth that she remembered my gripes about those "blanket" postcards and said that the only reason she did not use them was because she was in a steam-heated room and the janitor really went to town. "It was 6 above and snowing (outside). I took a short walk this morning and decided that the snow was prettier when viewed from a hotel window rather than from right down in it. I hope soon to see the most beautiful snow in the country. The snow which decorates our mountains when seen from the warm sunshine of the desert." She continued that, after flying over a lot of territory, she was anxious to set her plane down on the runways at the Palm Springs airport.

NOW, WHAT FOLLOWS may not exactly be delicate. It deals with smells. One reason I like to take a month's vacation is because, when I come back, I get that musty smell of printer's ink. It's perfume. But messing around in it for 11 months, you get so accustomed to it that you don't notice it. I suppose a doctor gets so used to the clean smell of disinfectants in his office that he doesn't notice it, either. But I think that is perfume, too. Why, even one of our busy gardeners told me the other day, that by the time he has his fifth or sixth lawn planted in the Fall, he doesn't notice anything either. And he regrets it. The neighbors, however, notice it. Well, I guess it's every man to his own choice in sniffing.

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Any connection between discussion of odors and this column is purely coincidental.)

MEDICAL EXPERTS today will consider a new program in Salk vaccine to prevent polio. The original program called for three injections per child over an eight-month period. Under the proposed new program, there will be only one inoculation. That is designed to reach as many children as possible before the new polio season sets in. . . . Harry Oliver, the sage of Thousand Palms (And he has the brush to go with the sage) once said that if you swipe stuff from several people, that's research but if you swipe from just one, it's plagiarism. Well, Harry committed the latter this week. In his entertaining, instructive and amusing corner of Page One of the Desert Sun, the other day he hung one of his own famous jokes of yesterday on someone else. Swiping from himself yet!

DO YOU CLASSIFY yourself as an "expert?" According to S. L. McNamara in the Randolph, Wis. Advance, an "ex" is a has-been and a "spurt" is a drip under pressure. Hoping you are the same.

LIBRARY NOTES

There is nothing more shattering, for either the true bibliophile or for the more casual reader who has certain well defined tastes, than to receive as a gift a book chosen solely on the basis of currency and popularity.

Thus the attorney who hopes the red-ribboned, obviously - a - book package under the Christmas tree will be Rodell's political history of the Supreme Court, NINE MEN, is completely devastated to unwrap AUNTIE MAME. And the man who paints during his leisure hours and longs for a copy of Rockwell Kent's engaging biography, IT'S ME O LORD, shudders when he finds Norman Mailor's DEER PARK among his Christmas booty.

A book, perhaps more than any other gift, demands thoughtful selection. It must be chosen with profound consideration for the recipient's preferences. And to have a permanent place in his library it must also be chosen with an eye to the value of the book, its quality and the probable longevity of interest in its subject matter.

This does not mean giving only those classics which have proved their merit over the years. It does mean choosing the best as distinct from merely the timely and popular. As an aid to shoppers, therefore, the Welwood Murray Memorial Library makes the following suggestions for Christmas giving.

For the bibliophile, that individual who loves books not only because of their content, but because of their shape and feel and all the implications of their use: Lawrence Clark Powell's ALCHEMY OF BOOKS, a wonderful volume about his year in England among the old manuscripts and English book-sellers; Aileen Pippett's excellent biography of Virginia Woolf; THE MOTH AND THE STAR; John Malcom Brinnin's intimate journal of DYLAN THOMAS IN AMERICA; L'Oeil's brilliantly planned and beautifully bound collection THE SELECTIVE EYE; and the new ANTHOLOGY OF JAPANESE LITERATURE edited by Donald Keene. If only a few coins jingle in your pockets this Christmas and you have friends with cultured and intellectual tastes, why not give them Beacon Press's recent paperback collection of the writings of

And finally, for the lover of sea fiction and fact: A NIGHT TO REMEMBER by Walter Lord, an authentic story of the sinking of the Titanic by a man whose interest in this catastrophe was awakened at the age of ten and who has since done years of research on the subject; MEN FROM THE SEA by K. M. Wallenius, tales of the courageous men who live and hunt and fish in the Arctic regions; and SEA FIGHTS AND SHIP WRECKS by James Baldwin.

All of these books are available at local book shops as well as the Welwood Murray Memorial Library. Why not come in and look them over as an aid to making those final difficult decisions?

The Voice of Broadway

NEW YORK — Ava Gardner's amigos in Madrid expect Frank Sinatra to fly there around Christmas time to hurl a kiss-and-make-up pitch. And they quote her as saying she'd adore to see him, but no cigar on the reconciliation. . . . When Prince Dmitri Djordjez received a tempting offer to manage a big hotel in the Dominican Republic, his beautiful bride, the former Lady Sylvia Ashley, put her foot down like a ton of bricks. The chic and fun-loving Sylvia wants no part of settling down all year 'round on some old island.

A grade-A, longhair scandal will result if the State Department discovers that one of the cultural tours it's sponsoring has on the payroll a "musician" who can't play anything more difficult than the phonograph. . . . Mrs. Dean Martin, visiting in Gotham for a few days, says Dean put her on the plane — but they're still officially separated.

ADD TO THE LIST of Greta Garbo's recent conquests the ticket-seller at the Fine Arts Theatre, who was on the receiving end of one of the GG's most radiant smiles the other day. It was late in the afternoon when Garbo glided up to the boxoffice for a ticket, only to be told that for the run of the current film, "Diabolique," patrons are admitted only at the beginning of the feature.

"Quite all right," she said cheerily, "I'll come back some other time." Additional info: Greta was wearing lots of makeup and looked gorgeous.

MRS. WILLIAM Rhinelander Stewart, a backer of the forthcoming musical, "The Amazing Adele," likes the co-producer, Morton Gottlieb, as well as the script. . . . Norman Granz of Jazz at the Philharmonic is back in the U.S. for a few days, just long enough to pick up some laundry and sign a few contracts. Then he's flying to Europe again for the most chic reason: a date to play tennis in Copenhagen.

Katharine Cornell, recovered from her recent operation, is catching up on the shows she missed when she was ill. Loyal enough, her first stop was "Romeo and Roses," her husband's hit.

From London: "Europeans who remember Elizabeth Taylor from the unhappy days of her French Riviera honeymoon with Nicky Hilton are amazed at the new maturity she is displaying during her present London visit with Michael Wilding. Liz as much as admits she's with Wilding to make sure this marriage keeps, that his career is more important than hers, and that she's now finding a satisfaction in life which makes her laugh at the things Hollywood considers 'important.'" betting or prepare for bankruptcy. Chums estimate he's lost more than $175,000 on the ponies this year. . . . The William "What's My Line?" Todmans are knitting tiny garments. It'll be their second — in May.

Orrin Lehman and Nina DeVoe have resumed the handholding. . . . The yummiest of TV trailers is being shot to herald the opening of the new Norman Krasna picture, "The Ambassador's Daughter," it'll feature 30 full minutes of Dior gowns modeled by 35 Paris mannequins.

George Frazier and Manie Sachs have patched up their feud. . . . Nat King Cole's newest, "Toyland" (not to be confused with the Victor Herbert standard) wins this week's prize for banality. Nat's tune-pickers must be trying to lose him all his fans with taste. . . . Joan Benny Baker and Bud Rudolph are a twosome to watch.

SALLY FIELDS, the 57-year-old hatches "girl" at Jimmy Ryan's jazz joint was a $1,500-a-week singer in musical shows in the roaring twenties. . . . Gus Schirmer, Jr., a home movie enthusiast, now has CinemaScope to entertain his friends — in a one room apartment.

The brass at 20th-Fox expect a $15,000,000 gross for their big release of 1956, "Carousel." . . . Stan Freberg, gayest of the recording comedians, is a victim of very unfunny ulcers.

Washington Report

WASHINGTON — The Kremlin is triggering two new counterattacks against crucial flanks of the North Atlantic defense alliance.

Targets of this latest Red threat are Norway and Greece.

These vital strongholds on NATO's northern and southern flanks are being subjected to an all-out Russian effort to woo them away from their close ties with the West.

There are a number of indications that the Soviet is making disturbing headway in this high-pressure drive. NATO authorities are gravely concerned. The development is viewed as another phase of the Kremlin's intensifying strategy to undermine key salients of the anti-aggression containment perimeter created by NATO at immense cost and effort.

So far, the most sinister focal point of this strategy is the Red's arming of the Arabs in the Middle East.

In contrast to this war-mongering, Russia's infiltration maneuvers in Norway and Greece are little known publicly, even in those two countries. But they are being closely followed by NATO leaders.

This disquieting situation was one of the reasons for the presence of all the Joint Chiefs of Staff at last week's meeting of the National Security Council, presided over by President Eisenhower personally. A special report on the matter was presented and discussed.

This latest Soviet challenge is also slated for major consideration at the meeting of NATO foreign ministers in Paris next week.

This conference will act on recommendations, regarding next year's military budgets and other subjects, agreed on by NATO defense ministers at a Paris session in October. Secretary of State Dulles will attend next week's momentous deliberations.

NOTE: One of the ablest members of the Senate flew to India and Burma to make a first-hand study of the effects of those hooped visits of Premier Bulganin and Communist Party boss Khrushchev. Senator Ralph Flanders (R, Vt.), member of the Armed Services and Finance Committees, is making this special survey for the State Department and Pentagon. He is also going to Thailand to check on certain matters there.

WHAT'S GOING ON — Russia's effective wooing of Norway has already upset one important NATO plan.

This was joint maneuvers to be held next spring, with U.S., British, Danish, Dutch and Norwegian forces participating. These announced ground, air and naval training exercises had to be cancelled because of Norway's objections.

As NATO allies, Norway and Greece have received tens of millions of dollars in U.S. military and economic aid.

In the last few months, the Kremlin has made significant trade and other "penetrations" in both these Western allies. As listed in a Pentagon report, they include the following:

Norway has given assurance to Moscow that NATO bases, forces and training missions will not be permitted on Norwegian territory. Norway has agreed to set up a joint commission to formulate plans for power and navigation development of the Pasvik River. It runs along the border of the two countries.

Norway and Russia to establish a joint rescue service in the stormy Barents Sea.

The two countries to exchange a wide range of delegations and information, from science and art to businessmen and athletes.

Greece has concluded a $10,000,000 trade agreement with the Soviet.

SOMERSET MAUGHAM tells an amusing story about Marcel Proust who, it seems, was burned up because one important French journal was tardy in giving "Remembrance of Things Past" its due. Anxious that the review be just right when it finally did appear, Proust left nothing to chance. He wrote it himself. Then he persuaded another well-known writer to sign it and turn it in. The editor, unfortunately, would have none of it.

"I must refuse your article," he told the man who submitted it. "Marcel is a valued friend. He would never forgive me if I printed a criticism of his master work that was so perfunctory and unsympathetic."

"Was I happy when they made my husband general manager at the plant?" enthused Mrs. Gansvoort. "Not only was I able to buy a mink coat and a diamond bracelet, but now he leaves for business later in the morning and has time to finish the breakfast dishes!" Copyright, 1955, by Bennett Cerf. Noted Curator of Entomology to be Lecturer

Lloyd M. Martin, assistant Curator of Entomology at the Los Angeles County Museum, will be the guest lecturer at the Desert Museum program at 8 p.m., Saturday.

An expert on insect life and a top photographer, Martin will tell of the insects in the southwestern deserts.

THE PROGRAM will be held at the Frances Stevens school auditorium, and the doors will open at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.

On Friday night, in the Museum, the program will feature a film about the Central America area, "The Maya Are People."

Attracting much attention at the Museum now is the permanent exhibit of crystalline minerals acquired some years ago from Fred Markham of Smoke Tree Ranch.

THE PIECES ON exhibit display nearly every color of the rainbow and consist of masses of crystals of every conceivable geometric shape.

Another popular exhibition is the fluorescent mineral exhibit, according to Dr. C. E. Smith, Museum director. Obtained from William B. Colburn, it consists of a number of minerals of very ordinary appearance under natural light, but which glow in vibrant colors or in pastel shades when exposed to ultraviolet light.

New Yule Cookbooks Well Timed

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Not only is the supply of food for the Christmas feast bountiful. But so are the directions for cooking it.

A whole raft of cookbooks is off the presses, including one guide timed right for the holiday season — "Gifts From Your Kitchen" (M. Barrows, New York), by Carl Laklan, Frederick Wuntch and Thomas E. Rumbaugh.

The book contains 300 food gift recipes, plus complete directions for wrapping each. It covers Christmas, birthdays, anniversaries, Easter, Thanksgiving and most other gift-giving occasions.

Cocktail-Casseroles

It stresses gift foods which won't ruin the food budget — cranberry bread, is one example. But if the homemaker wants to splurge, there are recipes for such as Magnificent Mince Meat, English Plum Pudding or Champagne Strawberries.

Timed also for holiday entertaining, but good the year round, is Marion Flexner's "Cocktail-Supper Cookbook" (M. Barrows). Mrs. Flexner, the wife of a Louisville, Ky., physician, said most of the recipes and menus were designed for informal gatherings, and most of the foods could be cooked ahead of party-time.

James Beard, a food authority and prolific writer of cookbooks, is out with a new one — "Casserole Cookbook" (P. Bobs-Merrill). Especially helpful is one section called "what goes with what" — suggested side dishes for the main course.

Goldberg Recipes

Another publication "Potluck Cookery," should help many a housewife use up holiday dinner leftovers. The book (Doubleday) is by Beverly Pepper, a magazine writer.

Dion Lucas, whose "Cordon Bleu Cookbook" is one of the better-known food guides, now has compiled a "Meat and Poultry Cookbook" (Little Brown), in collaboration with Anne Roe Robbins, another food authority.

One of the new books makes a dandy gift item. It is "Specialty of the House," published by the Florence Crittenton League of New York. The book features a recipe from each of 100 well-known cooks, including Victor Borge, Emily Post and Sophie Kerr.

Finally, there is a "Molly Goldberg Cookbook" (Doubleday), written by the radio and television star. The book, with many recipes the Goldberg family has popularized, is compiled in collaboration with Myra Waldo, a New York food authority.

Dinner Celebrates Return of Son

A home-coming dinner was given Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Salazar for their son, Joe Garcia. Joe returned home Friday night after spending about two years in the Orient with the Army.

Those present for the gala celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Chacon, Mrs. Pete Martinez, Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Contreras of San Clemente, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chaves of San Diego.

MRS. CLIFFORD HEINZ Sr. of Phoenix and Mrs. Mabel Lockman of Los Angeles, were among weekend guests at El Mirador.

IF YOU LACK THE WILL POWER TO REDUCE

HERE'S THE EASY WAY TO DO IT

Is reducing hard for you? Do you say it is too much of an effort to get slim? A "don't care" lazy, lack of will power attitude is frequently responsible for that "extra weight look" — most every woman... and man... wishes to avoid.

If you really want an attractive, slender figure... if you are tired of being overweight, of not looking smart in your clothes... here's an easy way to take hard-to-lose inches from your ankles, hips, thighs and tummy. With the STAUFFER HOME REDUCING PLAN of passive exercise and calorie reduction, you'll look better — and slim with relaxation and comfort.

FREE DEMONSTRATION. Let a Stauffer representative show you the easy way to a slender figure. Write or phone today for a courtesy demonstration right in your own home. No obligation.

By UNITED PRESS

Chester Bowles, former U. S. ambassador to India and ex-governor of Connecticut, recommends in his book, "The New Dimensions of Peace" (Harper) that the United States give special priority to India and Japan in carrying out its Asian policy.

The 455,000,000 people of India and Japan — one-fifth of the world population — is described by Bowles as "the only effective Asian manpower counterbalance to China's 582,000,000."

Bowles, envoy to India from 1951 to 1953, has consistently advocated closer ties between that country and the United States. He has been a gentle critic of the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy. In his book, he recommends the Indian government's concern for the welfare of the Indian peasant and contrasts it with Communist China's agricultural policy.

He predicts that Japanese vitality and skills will have a heavy impact on Asia and the world for a long time to come.

In "Teacher" — Anne Sullivan Macy (Doubleday), Helen Keller does an expert and loving job of depicting the tempestuous life of the talented woman who contributed so much to an understanding of the problems of the blind.

It is an intimate and personal story of the relationship between Mrs. Macy and her famous pupil, drawn against the background of heartbreak, financial insecurity, frustration and eventual triumph. A daughter of Irish immigrants, a reviled national group in America at that time, Annie Sullivan was placed in the Tewksbury (Mass.) almshouse at the age of 10 suffering from partial blindness. Her inner drive and unquenchable thirst for knowledge was so great that she literally fought her way out of that notorious pesthole and completed her education at the Perkins Institute for the Blind, from which she was graduated as valedictorian.

But none of her previous struggles compared with the awesome task she faced when she tackled the problem of educating blind and deaf Helen Keller. It took her a month to get through to the bright, inquisitive girl but Miss Sullivan found the key that released Helen from her dark silent world.

This is a touching and perceptive biography of a selfless woman who threw her total energies into the task of raising the blind from objects of pity and curiosity to the level of normal human beings. Miss Keller writes:

"The certainty that her creative intelligence and truly human quality of mind do not perish, but continue their vivifying work, sweetens my loneliness and is like the warm spring air in my heart."

"The Spider's House" by Paul Bowles (Random-House) is a timely novel of Morocco by a man who has spent much time in North Africa and the Middle East since 1945.

If not a great novel it does help one understand the stories coming from the troubled French protectorate today — the fierce desire for freedom and the determination of the French to hold onto their North African empire.

The story centers around three "Europeans," John Stenham, an author; Alain Moss, an Englishman, and Lee Veyron, an American divorcee who live in a hotel in Fez, the holy city of Morocco. But a boy, Amar, son of a Moslem holy man, provides the "slant" on life itself in Fez.

It is the story of the struggle between the French colonials and the Islamic, the powerful party of Moroccan independence, and it makes clear the issues of the Morocco of today. It has flashes of vivid description and action that make it worthwhile.

"The Red Umbrella" by Kelvin Lindemann (Appleton Century) was first published in Denmark where it enjoyed success as a best seller.

Lindemann has done his own translation, achieving a smooth old-fashioned prose that does justice to the Scheherazade in Copenhagen.

The story begins in cholera-stricken Copenhagen at the home of an aged marchioness who refuses to flee the city with her friends but remains to entertain a rich old woman who has surpassed her in power and influence.

Their tales range from Caen and Paris of a century ago to London, Madrid, Rome and Copenhagen. Some are a bit gory but they add up to rare entertainment.

Silver Tea at Church on Tuesday

Mrs. Wilson Hall and members of the board of the Women's Circle will be hostesses at the annual Christmas Silver tea, which will be held in the sanctuary of the Community Church on Tuesday, December 13, at 2 p.m.

The program will be given by artists from the University of Redlands, featuring soloist Miss Edrie Sellick, a newly appointed assistant professor of voice, who has had experience in many facets of the music world, including church work, opera, oratorical work and summer stock in New York. She will be accompanied by John Robertson, assistant professor of piano.

Also on the musical program will be John Goltz, violinist, who will be accompanied by his wife. He is assistant professor of theory and professor of violin at Redlands and studied in Paris.

In addition a student drama major, Miss Leticia Palmer will appear. She is a member of the Drama Trio that is planning a nation-wide trip early in the year.

These artists are well-known in Palm Springs and their friends will be given an opportunity to chat with them after the program, when tea will be served in the church parlor by Mrs. John Williams and her committee.

Decorations in the Christmas motif will be arranged by Mrs. Stanley Sarnacki.

Devotions will be given by Mrs. J. J. Rutherford, preceding the concert and tea.

Pink and Blue Surprise Shower
A group of friends surprised Mrs. Duane Krings at her home in Cathedral City Friday evening with a pink and blue shower. The ladies met at the home of Mrs. James Frances early in the evening going from there to the Krings home with many beautiful gifts for the honoree.

Dessert and coffee were served by hostesses, Mrs. James Frances and Mrs. Harry Estel. Those present were Mesdames Ray T. O. Kins Eidon Brown, John Goode, Howard Deason, Don Brown, Frank McGraw, Vernon Krings, Walter Gutzler and Daisy Keefe and Nellie Kaiser.

Seventeen days to Christmas... Only seventeen days to go... Take seven... that's a week more to procrastinate... to say it's time to be buying... Take another seven... to be seriously thinking about it... and that leaves three to rush around and do it... It's that breathlessness that brings the Christmas glow... as surely as tramping through the snow... and making holly wreaths... and singing carols... Some people can do their Christmas shopping in the Summer... efficiently and economically... tucking away a gift or two each shopping tour... but this is not for everybody... Let the cash register start jingling when the Christmas bells do... What am I saying?... It's ONLY seventeen days to Christmas!!!

Bob and Mary Bonesteel (he's executive secretary to Roy Fitzgerald) and their son Donald of Des Plaines, Illinois... arrived at El Mirador on Sunday evening... and will be here until after the first of the year...

A jolly little Santa Claus adorns the invitations... sent out by Kay and Dolph Obergef... for a cocktail-buffet in the Venetian Room at the Tennis Club... on Friday evening... The Obergefels are Christmasing early... as they will spend the holidays at Montego Bay...

Max and Emily Schwab are expecting New Yorkers Mr. and Mrs. Walter Millette... to spend three weeks with them the latter part of December... The four-some will be guests of the Walt Disney for a two day outing at fabulous Disneyland...

Mr. and Mrs. George Schuchart, who have been in Honolulu... are due at their Smoke Tree Ranch home... the last of this week... Their home is the one formerly owned by Walt Disney...

Kay and Clark Gable were lunching at the Racquet Club... on their way to spend the weekend at Thunderbird... with Lucy and Desi Arnaz...

I hear that Private Eye Raymond Schindler, who has many Palm Springs friends... is up and around after a heart attack...

THE CHRISTMAS TEA to be given by the Women's Circle at the Community Church on December 13 will present a musical with talent from the University of Redlands. This will include songs by Miss Edrie Sellick, newly appointed assistant professor of voice.

Perlbergs Host Sunday Night Dinner Party

A Sunday night dinner at the Palm Springs Ranch Club was given by Mr. and Mrs. William Perlberg. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Don Hartman, Bing Crosby and Kathy Grant, Mrs. Henry Bushey, Mrs. Carl Soderberg. Joining them, later in the evening, were Jimmy Van Heusen and John Haskell.

Among others entertaining at the Ranch Club were the George Ripleys, Mrs. Adolph Menjou, and Harriett Parsons.

Among other weekend diners were Ray Ryan, Frank Bogert and Mrs. Nat Holt.

Manager Al Farley had his wife and two sons, Al and Bryan at the Club this weekend. They have been living in Capistrano.

Pan-Hellenic to Meet Tomorrow

Desert Pan-Hellenic will hold a luncheon meeting tomorrow at 12:30 at the Shadow Mountain Club. Mrs. Edward Ruge, president, will conduct a brief business session.

Luncheon hostesses will be Mrs. Edward Curtin, for the Palm Springs area, and Mrs. Charles Gillett, for the Indio area.

Fall to live with her sister-in-law Mrs. Austin McManus... The bridegroom, who is a designer and has an art and china shop, Sascha Erafotti, also came here this Fall... He is from Detroit and New York...

The bride wore a mauve color suit and matching hat... and an orchid corsage... as she exchanged rings and vows... The newlyweds spent a few days in Los Angeles... and returned to Palm Springs Tuesday... They are staying with Mrs. McManus... and plan a delayed honeymoon trip to New York in the Springtime...

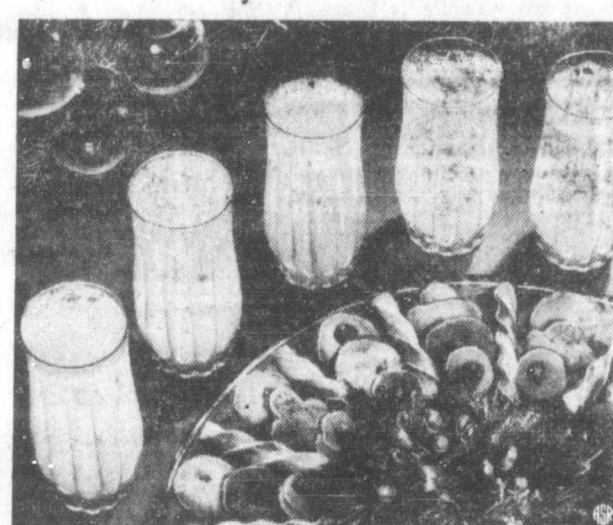

Eleanor Larrabee is back in the Village... after spending three weeks in New Mexico and Texas... She spent Thanksgiving in Roswell with her son Bill... a senior at New Mexico Military Institute... and went on for a week's visit with friends in El Paso...

Texan John Gillan hosted a Sunday night dinner at the Tennis Club for Sam and Bev Taylor... The group gathered for cocktails at the Thunderbird home of John and Velma Dawson... before going to the Club... Dining and dancing to the enchanting music of Tony Rose and his orchestra... were the Dawsons, Taylors, Maggie Hicks, Lee Anderson and the host...

Rummage Sale

The St. Theresa's Rummage Sale is in full swing and parishioners and friends are urged to come and browse. Mrs. McIntyre said they have everything in kitchen utensils, clothes and furniture. They are located in the old Post Office building in the Plaza and will be open all this week.

Party-Time Drinks

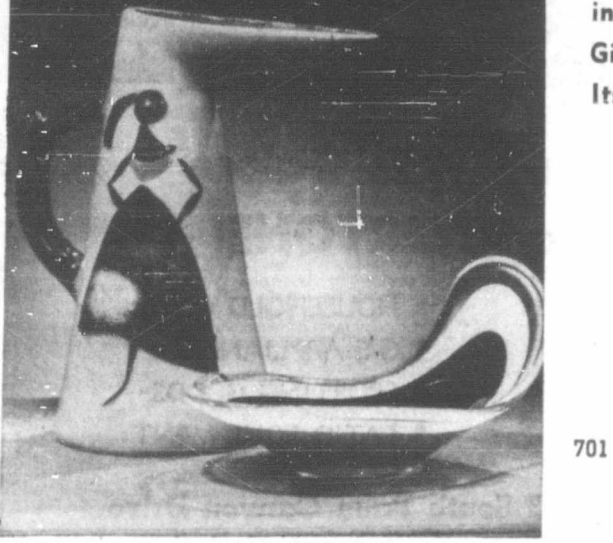

The social season is with us again—the busiest time of the year. There'll be parties for young and old, shopping trips, time out for wrapping and tying attractive packages and all the other happy chores it takes to make gay holidays.

And whether for party drinks or a pick-up in the middle of a busy hour, it's important to have an assortment of fine-flavored bottled beverages on hand. Ginger ale and sparkling water, of course, and the flavors to please each member of the family as well as guests. There's true fruit cherry, orange, grape and lemon soda, all delicious served chilled, and wonderful for mixing with frozen fruits, cream and ice cream to make sodas.

Here are two drinks, good for special occasions.

Lemon-Peach Cooler
2 cups sieved quick-frozen peaches Carbonated lemon soda
1/4 cup light brown sugar Fresh mint
Combine peaches and sugar. Divide among 4 tall glasses. Fill glasses with ice cold carbonated lemon soda. Stir gently to mix. Top each glass with a sprig of mint.

Christmas Special
1 cup cider 1 cup apricot nectar
Pale dry ginger ale
Combine chilled cider and apricot nectar; pour over ice in 4 tall glasses. Fill glasses with pale dry ginger ale. Stir gently to mix.

SAMUEL D. ARNER of Arner Realty and Insurance in Cathedral City, stands at the door of his establishment, which is one of the more modern stores in the community. Though Arner works hard at his job as realtor and insurance agent, his heart and hobby is with

Arner Has Found Hobby of Interest, Excitement

By FRED C. WEIGEL

CATHEDRAL CITY — Samuel DeWitt Arner, a local businessman whose whole life seems involved in real estate and insurance, who in the course of any particular month probably handles thousands of dollars worth of real estate deals and insurance policies, is a man who doesn't try to hide "that secret desire."

For today, Sam Arner has made a hobby pay off. A hobby that was started many years ago because he enjoyed traveling and adventure, and today he is recognized as a noted explorer, lecturer and archaeologist.

TWENTY-FOUR YEARS ago this month, Sam Arner arrived in the desert and started a grocery business and service station in Cathedral City. In 1935 he sold the business and opened his real estate office. From this office he has left to travel throughout Mexico and Central America five times, and one trip alone was for 8½ months duration.

Huge cabinets line the walls of his office at 615 Broadway, and hundreds of items collected from around the world (however, most of them are from Mexico) are displayed on top of the cabinets, and yet this is only part of one of the finest collections ever gathered from prehistoric ruins by a private lecturer.

As Arner explains the items and shows you the collection, you see idols, bowls, skulls, musical instruments, masks, and pones, paintings, incense burners and valuable gems, some in their polished and finished state and others in their original form.

He is the owner of a film lecture library that would take literally days to see, including exploration trips to Mexico, Central America, Hawaii, Western United States and Canada. He has recently added a trip into the Indian adobe of New Mexico.

One of Arner's proudest possessions is a stirrup and spur, made of metal and owned by one of the soldiers under Cortez, which was used during the invasion of Mexico.

Some of Arner's collection does not come from the prehistoric ruins of foreign countries, however, for in his collection is a part of a whale's backbone found at the foot of Mt. San Jacinto at the east side.

ARNER'S HOPE NOW is to get a building where he can display the hundreds of items collected from around the world, and then make future trips into the interior of Mexico, where, with his friend Franz Blom, known as the greatest living archaeologist on the Maya Indians, they will dig and explore to answer many questions hidden by the elements and time.

To take any particular subject and try to do it justice in this article would be pure folly, for the months and months of study, the traveling of more than 12,000 miles by Arner, would fill a huge tome.

Someday, Arner plans to write a book on his adventures. The places and things that make the study of ancient ruins, and he is making a name for himself as an explorer, lecturer and archaeologist. His office here is filled with paintings, relics, idols and ancient musical instruments. Just stopping in to see him and chat, is a real adventure in itself.

up his adventures can best be listed from a poster which is displayed prior to his lectures.

"THIS COLORED travelogue, given as an illustrated personal lecture takes you with the explorer and shows you all the strange things he saw and experienced—the ancient prehistoric ruins of the temple cities of the Toltecs, Aztecs, Mayas, Mixtecs, Olmecs, and Zapotecs—the giant pyramids (one of which is larger than any found in Egypt)—the Paracutin volcano in eruption, the underground chambers of death, strange Indians who can run 140 miles at a time, thousands of Mayas worshipping their ancient gods, and the jungles of Chiapas and Yucatan, Guatemala and Honduras."

Samuel DeWitt Arner has found the thing so many people "just look for," the thing he likes best to do, and he does it.

Teacher, School Property on Board Agenda

DESERT EMPIRE — Two items are up before the Board of Education of the Palm Springs Unified School district tomorrow night concerning this area.

First on the agenda is the hiring of Dorothy Sproule as a teacher at the Desert Hot Springs school. She is 48 years old, married and has two children. She has had seven years teaching experience, with three years in the Palm Springs Unified School district, and holds a bachelor's degree and life credential. Her salary would be $4,850 a year.

The next item concerns the fencing and shed rental of the school district's property in Rancho Mirage. Action must be taken by the board of trustees on any improvements to property belonging to the school district.

The school administration has set December 23 to January 2, inclusive, as Christmas vacation time for all schools in the district.

Obituary

GRACE EDNA IRVIN

Funeral services for Grace Edna Irvin, 77, 669 "F" Street, Cathedral City, will be conducted at 10 a.m., Thursday, December 8, at Wiegels and Son Chapel, with the Rev. Graham Hunter, pastor of the Cathedral City Community Church, officiating.

Interment will be in Rushville, Illinois, with Wiegels and Son Mortuary in charge. There will be private cremation.

Miss Irvin died at 1:20 a.m., Sunday, at Desert Hospital. A native of Illinois, she had been a resident of Cathedral City for three years, and of California for 15 years.

There are no immediate survivors.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Chamlee of Hollywood spent last week on the desert. Mr. Chamlee is business manager of the Presbyterian Hospital in Los Angeles.

The Rotary Club Ladies Night, Friday at Shadow Mountain Club was a great success. There were 175 present to hear Jacqueline Cochran speak on "It's a Woman's World" and enjoy the duets sung by Don and Gini, accompanied by Mary Allton.

Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Van Wageningen have returned to their Sun Lodge from a ten day visit in Lido, Isle where they have a Summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Atha have returned from a European jaunt and will soon open their Sun Lodge for the winter season.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schmidt departed suddenly for Pittsburgh. Illness in the family changed their plans for spending the winter in the desert.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy K. Nichols of Pasadena spent the weekend in their home here.

Alfred McCandless of Indio is building a new home in Palm Desert.

Lynn Genasci of San Carlos, California arrived here after eighteen months duty with the Coast Guard in Alaska. He is the house guest of the Howard Ellgoods, and is the nephew of Mrs. Ellgood.

Alyce Walker of Palm Springs Broadcasting Corp. (KCMJ) gathered together a group of Desert Empire ladies at the B-Bar-H Dude Ranch on Tuesday for a buffet luncheon. Indio, Palm Desert, Cathedral City and Palm Springs were presented. Mr. and Mrs. Mc-Kenzie of Philadelphia are the new managers of the "cuisine" at this popular resort.

Guests from every direction are enjoying "after Thanksgiving" visits at Shadow Mountain Terrace. Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Swan of Oak Park, Illinois, Dr. and Mrs. G. J. Fresonke, Arthur C. Hjelan, and Mr. and Mrs. K. J. Shaw, all of Long Beach; Dr. M. Walker of Pomona, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Davis of Oakland, and Mrs. E. N. Clark of Portland, Maine.

Saturday is an important Shadow Mountain Club date! The Eighth Anniversary and Director's Ball will draw a crowd of members and guests. There will be a cocktail hour from 7 to 8 p.m., followed by dinner and dancing. Paddy Beach, magician and comedian, and Carman B'Antonio, Spanish dancer, will highlight the floor show.

Once again, there will be a Big Time Polo at the Shadow Mountain Polo Field, at 1 p.m., December 10 and 11. These are strictly benefit matches as the entire proceeds go towards a Community Auditorium Fund for Palm Desert. Everyone is urged to attend and help swell this fund.

Villagers to Act as Judges Again in Trial Drama

A group of Villagers will again act as members of a jury, deciding the innocence or guilt of a girl on trial for her life, when Player-Stage presents a return run of "The Night of January Sixteenth," opening Friday at 8:45 p.m. at the American Legion Hall on Belardo Road, as they did last Summer.

The play will continue Saturday and Sunday this weekend, and open again for a three-day run December 16th, 17th, and 18th.

THE QUALITY OF realism is lent in an unusual way by selecting members of the jury from the audience without any previous arrangements. The audience will further seem like a courtroom audience, because Player-Stage actors will sit with the spectators till their cues to perform as witnesses are spoken.

Many of the cast which presented the play last Summer will return in their familiar roles. Some changes will be in the defense attorney, and Ralph Galzerano as one of the key witnesses for the defense.

BESIDES the audience participants, a cast of about 20 Player-Stage actors, including John Kramer as judge, Martin Beck as prosecuting attorney, and Jackie Meade as the beautiful blonde on trial will be seen.

The play was written without an ending. Ayn Rand, author of "The Fountainhead," wrote the drama to the last scene, and then stopped so the audience-jury could decide for themselves as to the verdict.

Head of American Hotel Ass'n is Guest in Village

"A hotel becomes an asset to the community when it accepts the community obligation," said L. W. Carter, newly elected president of the American Hotel Association, adding, "much the same as a church or school."

Carter, who was elected last Saturday at the Statler Hotel, Los Angeles, to replace Tom Powell for a year's term, said the Oasis Hotel is a perfect example of the progressive thinking of the American Hotel Association. The Oasis has a banquet room and other facilities for conventions, places where businessmen can meet, and has rooms where new products may be displayed in a setting which maintains the attitude of Palm Springs.

CARTER, WHO WITH other officers of the AHA, is making his first visit in his new position, will return tomorrow to Billings, Montana. He owns and operates the Northern Hotel there. That and the Rainbow Hotel, in Grand Falls, Montana, the other hotel he owns, are members of Western Hotels, of which he is vice-president, and of the AHA.

There are some 6,000 hotels in the AHA, reaching into Canada, Mexico, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. The association is made up of smaller associations from each section and each state and territory.

Carter's Palm Springs host, Dewey Metzdorf of the Oasis, is president of the Southern California Hotel Association, and a director of the California Association.

METZDORF WAS congratulated by Carter for his long range policy in thinking toward community activity.

The headquarters of the AHA, in New York City, is the central point for coordinating research and methods for betterment in hotel policy.

Some of the member hotels need improvement, but don't know how to go about doing it.

More than $2,500,000 was spent by the association on 23 hotels last year. The improvements were made at the recommendation of AHA headquarters in line with the "community member" plan.

Big Three Auto Makers Told to Ease Franchise

By DAYTON MOORE
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney demanded today that the Big Three auto manufacturers liberalize franchise agreements to "guarantee that dealers can be 'independent business men.'"

The Wyoming Democrat praised the General Motors Corp. for extending the period of its dealers' franchises from one to five years. The action was announced Tuesday by GM President Harlow H. Curtice.

But O'Mahoney said this was only a "short step" which "does not deal with fundamentals as example the fact that the termination of the contract can be made in exactly the same manner as before."

GM DEALERS STILL will be "told by the factory exactly what they must do to win renewal," although they will be relieved of the pressure of annual renewal, O'Mahoney added.

He expressed hope that Ford and Chrysler will join General Motors in liberalizing dealer franchise contracts. He said the Senate Monopoly Subcommittee, of which he is chairman, had not received any complaints from dealers of the smaller auto makers.

The subcommittee, which is investigating General Motors' impact on the nation's economy, called top GM executive for questioning today about auto bootlegging, advertising and "loading cars with extras."

THE NEBRASKA New Car Dealers Association, in a telegram to O'Mahoney, charged auto manufacturers with "failure to control bootlegging" and "coercing franchised dealers into using unethical advertising of 'crazy discount' gimmicks" in a wild sales race.

Curtice said he didn't intend to volunteer answers to these and other charges of unfair practices made against the manufacturers by the Nebraska dealers. But the Senate investigators indicated they

Scientist Learns of Home by Traveling

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—By traveling away from home, a University of California scientist has found that he can know home better.

Paleontologist Ralph W. Chaney claimed he has found that if a person wants to know what California was like 70,000,000 years ago, a trip to the Orient may reveal it.

Chaney recently returned from a trip to Japan, brought back new evidence indicating that almost identical forests flourished both in Asia and in the gold gravel valleys of the Sierra Nevada some 70,000,000 years ago.

Map Plans to Stretch Polio Inoculations

One-Shot Program Under Discussion by Experts Today

By MICHAEL J. O'NEILL
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's leading polio authorities met here today to consider recommending a one-shot vaccination program to stretch Salk supplies to millions of children who otherwise would go unprotected in 1956.

The present program calls for three injections over an eight-month period. Many experts are urging that the schedule be cut temporarily to one shot to give protection to far more youngsters.

Summoned to consider the question were Dr. Jonas E. Salk, the government's technical committee on the vaccine, medical and public health leaders, and officials of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Support for a one-shot program was strong. But government officials said it was "anybody's guess" what would come out of the secret meeting.

THE RECOMMENDATION OF the experts, expected by nightfall, will be submitted to Surgeon General Leonard A. Schee, head of the Public Health Service. He may make a final decision himself or refer the issue to the government's full National Polio Advisory Committee which reports to the secretary of health, education and welfare.

The move for a one-shot inoculation program stems from two things: The fact that there isn't nearly enough vaccine to go around and reports that even one shot provided significant protection program.

More than 45 million Americans—between birth and 20 years old—still have not been inoculated. Unless there is a spectacular jump in production, vaccine supplies are expected to fall far short of meeting the need next year.

CAREFUL GOVERNMENT studies showed that the vaccine was 75 percent effective against paralytic polio this year. This record was achieved even though most of the youngsters had received only one shot.

The idea advanced by many experts is that it would be better to give limited protection to many, through one shot, than to provide three shots to a smaller number.

One problem was whether one shot would last through the coming polio season, which runs roughly from Spring until Fall. Salk has said his studies indicate that even one shot offers some protection over a fairly long period of time. It will be up to the experts to decide whether this protection is sufficient to make a one-shot program advisable.

would question the GM executives about them, anyway.

One of the dealers' complaints was that their profits had dropped to an all-time low while the Big Three auto manufacturers were enjoying their greatest profits.

Curtice has denied that this is now true of GM dealers. He listed their profits for the first nine months of this year at 414 million dollars.

STUDENT COUNCIL discussion group, part of students and advisors attending from 17 high schools, is, left to right, David Inglis, student council advisor; Bill Lee, student body president from Fullerton; Kenny Reich, student body president from Palm Springs; Henry Greeley, principal of Palm Springs High School, and Pat Hearne, district vice president from Fullerton. Members of California Association of Students Councils, District Five met.

Saturday at the local high school for mid-term discussion of business. Schools represented were Huntington Beach, Burroughs, Brawley, Trona, Grossmont, Garden Grove, Coachella, San Bernardino, Calipatria, Needles, Blythe, Barstow, Valencia, Fullerton, Alhambra, San Juan Capistrano and Palm Springs. Lunch and dinners were served at the cafeteria for the conventioners.

150 Ships May be Involved in Marine Firemen's Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A strike of AFL Marine Firemen idled three ships in West Coast harbors today and threatened to idle three more in the next day or two.

The firemen called the strike to back their demands for equal vacation pay as that received by the AFL Sailors and Marine Cooks and Stewards.

The action affects firms belonging to the Pacific Maritime Association. It may eventually involve 150 ships.

The first ship struck was the China Transport of the Pacific Transport Lines, which was supposed to have sailed from San Francisco Sunday with Christmas mail for servicemen in the Orient.

The walkout spread yesterday to Los Angeles Harbor, hitting the PT&T Leader of Pope and Talbot Lines and the Santa Flavia of the Grace Lines.

Ships scheduled to sail today were the Matson freighter Hawaiian Rancher with mail for Hawaii and the Matson freighter Sierra for Los Angeles. The PT&T Forster was scheduled to sail tomorrow from Portland.

It appeared doubtful that the three ships could get crews for their voyages.

A spokesman for Pacific Transport Lines said no attempt will be made at the present time to remove the Christmas mail from the China Transport.

The spokesman said there was still hope that the Hawaii mail could be delivered before Christmas. Mail for Okinawa cannot be delivered until after the holiday, he said.

No meetings were scheduled in the dispute.

The strike was the result of a vacation pay provision in the new master contract covering 6000 AFL Sailors, Marine Firemen and Marine Cooks and Stewards.

The sailors and cooks chose a package deal that provided a base pay of $424 a month, but which eliminated extra pay for certain unpleasant duties.

Nebraska Farmer Has Rattlesnake Round-Up

SUTHERLAND, Neb. (AP)—Nearly 100 rattlesnakes were killed in three days at the Glenn Elfeldt farm near here.

The Elfeldts killed 37 rattlers the first day they discovered them in an abandoned prairie dog town, just 80 rods from the farm house. Kills on two other days brought the total to 96, and the rattlers still hadn't been cleaned out.

NEW YORK — Pro basketball definitely has "arrived," NBA President Maurice Podoloff asserted, and he envisions the day when there will be 20 teams in two nationwide divisions with a national playoff "for a real world championship."

Franchise interest has reached a new high, said the rotund little man who tells the Giants what to do, and the "hot cities" are Washington, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Los Angeles and Portland, Ore. "Other possibilities include Dallas, Houston and Cincinnati," Podoloff revealed, "while such cities as Charlotte, Des Moines and Denver all have new buildings with a capacity large enough to handle our games."

THE NEXT STEP for what is currently an eight-team league will be to expand to a 10 to 12 team setup, predicts the loquacious midget. The 12-team league seems to be his favorite because in that manner there could be two divisions in which travel costs could be cut considerably.

But over a period of time, Podoloff sees "ten teams east of the Mississippi and 10 teams west of the Mississippi."

Podoloff and the NBA are cognizant of the fact that pro basketball interest is mounting at such a rapid rate that if they don't concentrate on expansion they may run into competition. They did a few years back and solved it by merging with the National Basketball League in 1950.

"If we ignore these facts there possibly could be a separate league within four years," he admitted. "Naturally we want to maintain control."

INDICATIVE of the interest in pro basketball, as of the same number of games last year the league's attendance is up 57 per cent this season. Two years ago, only 25 TV stations were carrying the pro games. When the telecasts start Saturday at Boston with the Minneapolis game there will be 130 stations in 40 states carrying the games.

Whispers are that the Boston players, seeking a share of that $5000 a game television loot, are planning a "sit down" strike. There, too, the management intends to retain control with Podoloff warning "they'll sit down the rest of their lives as far as basketball is concerned."

A total of 12 seasonal games and three playoff games will be televised. The home club retains the entire fee because the games are not blacked out locally. But the clubs consider it worthwhile as "a prestige buildup."

Considering the clamor for franchises, you wonder how high the build-up can get. But, if you're in the market, all you need is population, seating capacity, finances and "know how," Podoloff will take it from there.

Volleyball Loop Schedule Starts at High School

A volleyball league with teams comprised of adults will start play tonight, according to Howard Had-dock, City Recreation Director.

The first volleyball play of City Rec Volleyball League will start at the high school when four of the nine teams in the league play on two courts for an hour and three quarters starting at 7:30.

Four more teams will take over then, and play until 10 p.m. Had-dock said there is room for more teams in the league, and issued an invitation to all persons interested to show up tonight at the High School Gym.

Indians Down Brawley Twice

HIGH SCHOOL CENTERS Charles Jordan, right, and Larry Phillips, of Brawley, maintained high-point rivalry from the first center toss to the final gun. Jordan edged the visiting sharpshooter out of honors by his one point margin. Jordan, registered 23 points, Phillips, 22. Indians won their season's second game, 50-50. Palm Springs' "B" squad also racked up second victory of year, 35-31.

Snead Looks for Vacation Money

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Sam Snead looked confidently toward the $12,500 Miami Open golf tournament today as a chance to pick up a little more "vacation" expense money.

None of some 74 golfing "tourists" were close when Snead picked up a $500 down payment on his annual winter visit to Florida Tuesday by shooting a six-under-par 65 to win the La Gorce Pro-Member tournament.

The runners-up—Walker Inman, Jr., of Augusta, Ga., and Ed Furgol of St. Louis—were three shots back of West Virginia's ageless golf king with 68. Snead teamed with Miami Architect Robert M. Little to shoot a best-ball 62 and share victory with two other teams the pro-member division of the one-day tourney.

Motor vehicle registrations and travel mileage on the nation's highways are expected to increase more than 33 per cent by 1965.

Varsity Wins 50 to 40, JVs by 35 to 31

Jordan Hits for 23 to Pace His Team to Victory

The Palm Springs Indian cagers continued their winning ways with victories over Brawley in both the varsity and "B" games last night. In the preliminary tilt the junior varsity survived a disastrous third quarter and came back in the fourth quarter to edge out an aggressive Brawley "B" team 35 to 31. In the main event Charles Jordan with 23 points led the Indians to a 50 to 40 triumph.

The local hoopers were slow starting and were behind 23 to 20 at half time, but great third quarter play gave the Indian varsity a four point lead which they never relinquished.

Vic Reyes proved his ability as a play maker in last night's contest. Though scoring only two field goals, he had a hand in setting up many more of the Indian points.

THE GAME was a personal duel between the two big centers, Jordan of Palm Springs and Larry Phillips of Brawley for high scoring honors, with the local boy coming out on top with 23 points to Phillips' 22. Jordan, along with O. B. Crawford, also led Palm Springs in the all important rebound department.

It was an extremely close affair up to the last period when the Indians began to pull away. The lead was exchanged many times, as a combination of not-too-good ball control by the Indians and accurate Brawley foul shooting, kept the visitors in the game. It was when the Indians settled down to play basketball that they really began to move. The contest turned into a show of fine P. S. team work.

THE "B" SQUAD scored one point to their opponent's 18 in the third period and yet was still able to survive this rally and come away with the victory. Curtis Roberts, who played most of the fourth quarter handicapped by four fouls, led the Indian J. V. with 13 points. Sophomore Eddie Tarr also did a fine job. Beside racking up eight points, he was the "big boy" for the Indians on the backboards.

Next action for Palm Springs in basketball will be Thursday when the "B" and "C" teams travel to Hemet for the second round of the Hemet "B" and "C" Tournament. If either team comes away with a victory they will go back on Saturday night for the finals.

Baker Gambles for Shot at Title

CLEVELAND — Big Bob Baker of Pittsburgh will take a million-dollar gamble tonight in his heavyweight challengers' fight with lanky Nino Valdes of Cuba at the Cleveland Arena.

Although already in position to press for a shot at the heavyweight crown, Baker asked for tonight's return TV-radio 10-rounder with Valdes "so's I can beat him impressively this time and clinch the fight."

But an upset defeat by tall Nino, the 9-5 underdog, would blast Baker out of the running for Rocky Marciano's championship and there's no contract for a return bout.

Forty Couples in Thunderbird Tourney Sunday

The ladies will do the asking at Thunderbird Country Club this week in preparation for the mixed Scotch foursome tournament Sunday.

Ruth Manseau, chairman of women's golf at Thunderbird, said today that she expects about 40 couples to participate in the best-ball event.

Some of the low scoring players who will probably accept the invitations of their wives to uphold family honor will be Johnny Dawson, Ross Clarke, Lou Manseau, Barney Hinkle, George Cameron, Milt Hicks, and Fred Karlen.

Mrs. Manseau said prizes will be awarded for the one day tournament, and that they are being prepared for presentation by chairman of the prize committee, Frances Froggatt, with the help of the golf shop.

It will be more like a family affair, she said, than a real golf tournament.

The sixth annual Thunderbird Amateur invitational will start the next day, and continue through the 18th.

Welsh Leading Ground Gainer

NEW YORK — George Welsh's gallant efforts weren't enough to provide Navy with a victory over Army this year but they earned the 164-pound Middle quarterback the major college total offense crown.

Official figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau revealed that the 165 yards Welsh gained against the Cadets gave him a season total of 1,348. That total was just 35 yards more than was gained by Art Lupino of Arizona.

PCC Boosts Fine Limits on Colleges

Future Penalties to Meet Up with Infractions, Rule

By HAL WOOD
United Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO — The Pacific Coast Conference set the stage today for heavy-scale fines for illegal recruiting activities with the lifting of the $1000 maximum on penalties.

The conference voted yesterday, in the wake of a $1000 fine against UCLA for unbecoming proselytizing, to make future fines "appropriate" to the infraction.

"In the future, fines may be assessed in such amounts as the conference deems appropriate," H. P. Dick Everest of Washington, PCC spokesman, announced.

This apparently opens the way for more severe financial raps at schools recruiting outside the conference code.

TODAY, THE DIRECTORS are expected to take up the matter of a "living wage" for athletes.

Yesterday, the organization outlined a six-point program that it will offer to the NCAA on the handling of television for football games.

Mainly, the proposal asks for more regional control, more regional games and fewer national "Game of the Week" programs in the West.

"We feel that the conference involved should have the say on whether a game should be blacked out in any certain area," said Al Masters, Stanford graduate manager and PCC television chairman.

"WE WOULD LIKE to see eight regional games telecast next year compared with the five we had this season."

"Under the rules last year, Southern California was not allowed to televise into Los Angeles its game with Minnesota being played in Minneapolis because Pomona was playing that day," Masters said.

Everest said there has been a change in sentiment among the smaller schools which used to think that television of major games would hurt their gate.

"The smaller schools used to be opposed to this but they aren't any more," said Everest. "They have become adjusted to television."

It Doesn't Take Much to Start Fires, Survey ShowsBy HENRY MINOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent

BOSTON (U.P.)—You don't have to rub two Boy Scouts together to start a fire.

But you can achieve the same effect with a pair of woolen socks and a pair of plastic bedroom slippers.

In fact, friction between socks and slippers actually started a fire in a suitcase in an auto truck at Clinton, Ky. That's just one of many fire curiosities of the past year reported today by the National Fire Protection Association, with headquarters here.

Arthur Murray to Hold Open House Dec. 7-10

It will be open house, December 7 through 10, for the new Arthur Murray studios at 120 West Arenas Road at Palm Canyon Drive. The spacious new studios have a modern decor, which will make a pleasant setting for studio parties and social events, such as the open house.

Gordon and Ingrid Ayres, studio directors, have issued an invitation for Palm Springsers to step in and see the exhibition dances, which include the rumba, samba and other popular dances.

The studio is offering free dance analysis by an Arthur Murray expert. They are offering, too, Teen Age classes.

Gordon Ayres has been emceeing the Monday night Champagne Hours in El Mirador's Kiva Room.

TCA Holds Final Meeting of Year, Names Directors

Executives elected to fill expired terms on the 1956 Board of Directors of the Trailer Coach Association were formally introduced by President J. E. Wells at the year-end dinner meeting of TCA members and their guests held recently in Los Angeles.

During a summation report of 1955 board activities Wells announced the names and introduced the following new directors: Jerry Golden, Mid-States Corporation, Monrovia; Arnold Romeyn, Kit Manufacturing Co., Inc., Long Beach; Al Blazer, Blazer's Trailer Sales, Spokane, Washington; Al Schmidhammer, Al's Trailer Mart, Portland, Oregon; and James Reid, Universal Finance Corporation, Los Angeles.

SPEAKING TO WELL over 200 TCA business people representing the mobile homes and travel trailer industry throughout the 12 western states, President Wells elaborated on the many accomplishments of the association and the tremendous strides which the industry has taken in recent years.

"Mobile homes and vacation trailers, a $400 million industry today, has assumed a very definite and important role in the economy, society and citizenship of America," stated Wells.

"Western manufacturers, located almost entirely in Southern California's Los Angeles area produce approximately 28 percent of all coaches built in the nation. The value of this young industry is reflected by 2½ million people throughout our country who have chosen the leisure and comfort of mobile home living."

POINTING UP several statistics which bear out the fact that mobile housing is gaining ever-increasing popularity, the TCA executive emphasized that in the State of California alone there are slightly over 4200 trailer parks containing an average of 48.7 coach space accommodations.

Terms for financing improvements on existing parks and construction of new sites have recently been included under Federal Housing Administration authority. TCA representatives are currently working with FHA officials in an effort to lay out adequate and equitable regulations. Land values, state and local ordinances, and the extreme need for more and improved trailer parks in California and other western states presents a very different situation than that found elsewhere in the country.

Anti-Reds Promise Free Beer, Noodles

TOKYO — Police in the industrial city of Osaka are looking for members of an anti Communist league who have been using a helicopter to shower leaflets on Osaka, site of the current Chinese Communist trade fair.

The Japanese press reported today that one set of leaflets caused pedestrians to stampede the fair grounds. The leaflets promised "free Chinese beer and noodles" which the Red Chinese didn't have.

Each year the members of the church, adults and children, collect staple foods during the Thanksgiving season to be given to the Home for the children's use during the year. Some of the

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

By SYLVIA PORTER

"Chicago: The U.S. National Committee for the International Geophysical Year has recommended 10 earth satellites be launched during the 18-month period which starts July 1, 1957."

"Dr. Joseph Kaplan, the chairman, asserted the basketball-size earth satellites would provide a field day for all scientists seeking to learn more about the mysteries of outer-space."

You're the head of a multi-million dollar business in Connecticut and you've just invested hundreds of thousands to repair the damages caused by the most disastrous floods in your history.

SUDDENLY COMES THE news: Next year's rains in your area will be even heavier. "Moisture will be excessive."

Immediately a town meeting is called of top industrialists, Washington officials, experts on dams and bridges. You agree that work should be started at once on strengthening all defenses against floods. You alert every businessman, shopkeeper, etc., to what is ahead.

You then look forward to next season's challenges confident that you can beat the elements. . . . You're a farmer in the midwest about to risk your life's savings on a new planting of corn.

YOU GET A CALL from the town clerk: There'll be a severe drought in the midwest at the peak of the season. We're holding a meeting next week of government representatives, irrigation experts, etc.

You attend, learn about and participate in moves to protect your crop against the enemy you know long in advance is coming your way.

You proceed with your planting secure in the knowledge that this centuries-old threat to your survival is finally under control. . . .

You're a manufacturer of winter coats (or winter underwear or winter boots or any product associated with cold weather).

To you comes the reports: We're in the mildest weather in decades. Temperatures will be consistently far above normal.

You go into conference with your assistants, decide to concentrate on producing goods that will match the mild season. One of the greatest risks in your business—unpredictable weather—has been eliminated.

AM I DREAMING? Sure! But my dreams are not nearly as fantastic as they may seem. In fact, they could turn out to be entirely realistic when the earth satellites are launched.

It was in late July that President Eisenhower captured the imagination of the world with the announcement that the first man-made, earth-circling satellites in history will be set off by the United States between July 1957 and December 1958.

The satellites, we were told, will be about the size of a basketball, will travel at a speed of about 16,000 miles an hour and will circle the earth in 90 minutes at a height of 200 to 300 miles.

Since then — with the exception of items like the one at the start of this column — the story has disappeared from the news.

BUT SINCE THEN, as I've struggled through the hurricanes and floods of the East, I've been pondering what the earth satellites could mean to you and me in terms we can understand.

It strains understanding that in this age of the hydrogen bomb, jet plane and now man-made satellite, we still weren't able to foretell the disastrous hurricanes and floods of 1955.

But surely the instruments on these satellites will give our scientists vital information about solar radiation — and thus permit us to know more about the ways and whims of climatic changes.

SURELY, THE DATA picked up by the instruments will tell them more about whether glaciers are nearing or receding — and thus permit more accurate, long-range forecasts about hot, cold, wet and dry weather.

Let the military experts dream of airfields in the sky and the science fiction writers thrill to interplanetary vacations.

My more earth-bound wish — after a fortnight in which I've sweated, then been caught in a snowstorm, frozen and then been drenched in a downpour — is that in this rocket age, the satellites will just tell me what sort of winter it's going to be around here.

Scout Furniture Drive for Finn Boys Ends Soon

Only three more days remain for Villagers to contribute new or used furniture to Mr. Finn's Boys Ranch under a campaign being conducted by Kiwanis sponsored Boy Scout Troop 77.

Saturday is the deadline established by the troop for ending its Christmas project.

Donations may be left at the home of Scoutmaster Vern Baumgardner, or will be collected Saturday by members of the troop. Persons having furniture they wish to have collected may call 4247, 2591, 9068, 7691 or 5487.

Prudential Head Predicts Record Economic Mark

Another new high in the nation's economy will be established during 1956, according to a detailed economic forecast released yesterday by Carrol M. Shanks, president of the Prudential Insurance Co.

Shanks predicted that the value of all goods and services produced next year will reach an unprecedented rate of $410 billion. This would represent an increase of $15 billion over the estimated current record rate of spending by the public, private business and federal and local governments.

An upsurge in consumer buying, a heavy volume of capital expenditures for industry and a rise in outlays for highways, schools and other state and municipal facilities will be largely responsible for the nation climbing to the new economic plateau, he said.

Michigan's exports are close to $2,000,000,000 annually, nearly seven percent of the national total. The Mississippi River flows 2,848 miles from Lake Itasca, Minn., to Southwest Pass on the Gulf of Mexico.

Youth Fellowship Delivers Food to Children's Home

Members of the Young People's Fellowship of St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal Church have made their annual delivery trip to the Episcopal Church Home for Children in Los Angeles.

Purpose was to take in person the large amount of foodstuffs contributed during the Thanksgiving season by adults and children of the church.

A chartered bus was used, as it has been for the past four years, to permit the young people to see the Church Home in action.

The Young People's Fellowship is currently working on a project to send other needed supplies to the Home and the school there which is run for the children. Note books, pencils, paper, pens and presents for the children's birthdays are being collected, and will be sent to the Church Home following Christmas.

Mrs. David Watt and Mrs. Clinton Bauer accompanied the young people on their trip.

Four to Deliver City's Protest at Hearing Friday

City of Palm Springs will protest the liquor license application of Johnson's, corner of Indian Avenue and Palm Canyon Drive, at a public hearing to be held by the California Liquor Control Board at 10 a.m., Friday.

Four representatives of the city will appear: City Manager R. W. Peterson; City Attorney Jerry Bunker, Director of Public Works Frank Hamerschlag and Police Chief August G. Kettmann.

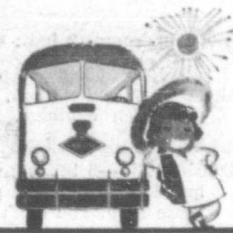

Main basis of the city's protest is that it would create a serious traffic hazard.

Firm's Employees Drink on the House

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (AP)—Nearly 1,000,000 cups of coffee, soft drinks and glasses of milk are dispensed annually to employees of a Kansas City firm that started a custom of free refreshments more than 20 years ago by serving iced tea in the afternoon.

The employees (of Hallmark Cards) take half an hour from work daily—15 minutes in the morning and afternoon—to enjoy the beverages served to them without charge at their desks, drawing boards of production stations.
